DESTRUCTIVE CONFLAGRATION

City of Indianapolis Suffers a Million Dollar Loss by Fire.

Half a Block in the Wholesale District is Now a Mass of Twisted Ruins.

Indianapolis, Feb. 20.—Fire which broke out shortly before 10 o'clock last night in the wholesale millinery establishment of Fahnley & McCrea gained such headway and spread so rapidly that, when two hours later the flames were under control, the entire south half of the square bounded by Louisiana and Georgia, Meridian and McCrea streets, was a mass of broken, twisted ruins at a loss approximating $1,200,000.

Falling walls, explosions and the cracking of plate glass added to the spectacular effect of the scene. Showers of sparks, clouds of smoke, and even blazing planks, were whirled up into the air by the force of the heat and wind, the fiery deluge descending upon adjoining buildings and time and again threatening the Union Station with destruction. Neighboring buildings required constant attention to prevent a further spread of the flames.

Following the first, second and third alarms, which came within a short interval, and to which all but three of the fire companies responded, the firemen worked for an hour without making any noticeable impression upon the flames.

The Fahnley & McCrea establishment was the first to go, and before 11 o'clock the T-shaped structure occupied by them had been completely gutted. The Sherman House, the Savoy hotel, the Kiefer Drug company, Griffith Bros., the St. Charles hotel, E. C. Dometsch company, and the United States Express company fell victims early in the progress of the fire, and soon after the Fahnley & McCrea stock had been wiped out they, too, had offered up everything but the bare walls.

Many of the guests in the hotels had retired when the alarm of fire was sounded, and in several instances, not waiting to fully dress, they hurried to safety by means of the fire escapes.

MRS. MOUNT GOES ABROAD

Connersville friends of Mrs. Helen Mount, of Logansport, and formerly of that city, have received letters from her stating that she expected to sail Saturday from Hoboken, on the Steamer Princess Irene, for Genoa, Italy. Mrs. Mount goes unaccompanied, but will meet friends at Nice, Italy, where she expects to remain some time. Before returning she will probably make an extended tour of Europe. Mrs. A. G. Norfman and daughter, Christine and Mrs. Violet Jackman, both formerly of that city will be among the friends she will encounter at Nice.

DEFERRED ACTION UNTIL TODAY

Judge Was Busy and Did Not Pass on Sherman Case Saturday.

Owing to the press of other business Saturday and the fact that the afternoon was a legal half holiday, Judge Belden did not pass upon the motion for a new trial in the Sherman murder case at Hamilton, will dispose of it today. The motion for a new trial is not being pressed and it is thought that there is nothing for the judges to do but pass the life sentence upon Sherman.

INTERURBAN MAGAZINE

A Guide for the Electric Railways of the State is Forthcoming.

Paul Richey, of Muncie, who for several years has been chief assistant in the office of the engineer of the Indiana Union Traction company in Anderson, was granted the exclusive right to publish the time tables of the various electric lines in Indiana at the meeting of the Indiana Electric Street Railway Association which met at Anderson recently. The tables will be published in a new magazine which will be issued in Muncie and will be known as the Indiana Electric Railway guide. The first number will be issued in April.

THE SAME AT SHELBYVILLE

George Ray Thinks Judge Sparks Should Route Gamblers There.

In commenting upon the attitude taken by Judge Sparks in his charge to the Rush county grand jury, George Ray, editor of the Shelbyville Liberal says:

Now that is the proper thing for Judge Sparks to do, and if proper at Rushville, it is equally proper at Shelbyville.

What Judge Sparks did there he should do here. The field here is doubtless worse than at Rushville. The gamblers here run wide open and so do the saloons on Sunday.

Last Sunday it was no trouble to knock at the door of almost every saloon in this city and gain admission. Crowds entered the Fred Goodrich saloon on Noble street with ease. Judge Sparks can force these fellows here to obey the law by his instructions to the grand jury at the next term of court.

The people who voted for Judge Sparks in Shelby county expect him to enforce the liquor laws. It was that issue which made Judge Morris weak and Mr. Sparks strong in Shelby county. Under Judge Morris the saloon-keepers and gamblers violated the law without fear of punishment.

NEW DISTRICT

Composed of Fayette Rush & Hancock Counties—Senator Moore's Part.

[Connersville News.]

Some Democratic papers in this district have inferred or charged that Senator E. E. Moore was the author of that part of the Senatorial reapportionment measure, changing this district from Union and Henry to Rush and Hancock counties. This is unjust to Mr. Moore.

When the committee, with which he had nothing to do, prepared to join Wayne and Fayette counties, he protested. Then the committee arranged to put Fayette, Rush and Hancock together and to this he consented, though he had nothing to do with forming the district. Yesterday the matter was up for consideration and Senator Moore asked that the district might be left as it is, but the measure as a whole will doubtless be adapted as formerly arranged, making Fayette, Rush and Hancock a district.

It is claimed that Costa Rica has a greater variety of animals than any other country. Of birds alone there are about 700 kinds.

A German periodical, the Gartenlaube, offer three prizes for the best answer to the question, which is becoming more and more serious to mothers: "How can I marry off my daughters?"

THE SERVICE TO INDIANAPOLIS

I. & C. Started Its Interurban Cars to That City This Morning.

The New System is Working Well—It Means a New Traction Era.

At six o'clock this morning a through traction service was started between this city and Indianapolis.

At that hour one of the cars left each terminal, the Indianapolis Terminal Station and the traction depot in this city, three hours being allowed for the trip each way. Cars were operated at intervals of two hours today without mishap of any consequence and will be, each succeeding day, the last one leaving the two terminals at 10 o'clock p. m.

This is but a temporary schedule, as the road has not been fully ballasted, and for the present no attempt for high speed will be made. A change of cars at the junction of Prospect street and the Michigan road is now necessary by reason of the fact that the large cars purchased for the road cannot pass under the overhead bridges of the Big Four and Belt railroads near the Indianapolis city limits. This transfer will later be abolished by the raising of the bridges.

Yesterday all of the traction officials boarded a car and made a trip over the line to Indianapolis to test the line and everything worked beautifully. The men put the signals along the way and returned to Rushville in the afternoon.

It is claimed by the Westinghouse Electric company that with the opening of the system, American electric traction development enters upon a new era through the use of the recently perfected single phase alternating current system, with which the road is equipped. This system, besides practicing an economy in the installation of the power plant and in the construction of the trolley line and its operation, is said to insure the elimination of electrolysis.

The fare between Indianapolis and Rushville is 60 cents, with proportionate amounts for the intervening stations of Julietta, New Palestine, Reedville, Fountaintown, Morristown, Gwynneville and Arlington. The cars did considerable business today all along the line.

THE DECISION IS FAVORABLE

English Court's Opinion on the Gaynor-Greene Case.

Washington, Feb. 20.—The department of justice has received a copy of the decision of the judicial committee of the English privy council in the Gaynor-Greene case. The decision was favorable to the United States government and will result in a reopening of the extradition proceedings in the Canadian courts against Messrs. Gaynor and Greene who are technically charged with obtaining money under false pretenses.

BROTHERS STARVE.

Philadelphia, Feb. 20.—A case of starvation and exposure which resulted in two deaths has been revealed by the police, who were called upon to investigate a mysterious death in Germantown, a suburb. They found Sarah Smith, aged sixty-two years, dead; Benjamin Smith, seventy years, a brother, dying, and Louis Smith, sixty-four years old, another brother, in a serious condition. There was no fire in the house nor was there any food to be found. Benjamin Smith was removed to a hospital, where he died last night, and the other brother was taken to the almshouse.

PNEUMONIA DECREASING

Disease is Still the Chief Cause of Death in Indiana However.

Pneumonia continues this month to be the chief cause of death in Indianapolis, as it was in January. However, there has been a material falling off in its percentage. Of the 126 deaths reported at the health office for February thus far, 22 are charged to pneumonia, which is equal to 17.4 per cent., as against 21 per cent. last month. Tuberculosis has also fallen off. There have been 12 deaths from this cause, which equals 9.6 per cent. In spite of the fact that there have been a large number of typhoid fever reports, the death rate from the disease has been small. Two typhoid deaths are recorded for February.

WEDDED FOR SIXTY YEARS

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Woodyard of Morristown a Couple Well Known Here.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Woodyard, an aged couple at Morristown, well known among the older residents of this city and county have been married for sixty years. The anniversary of their marriage was celebrated on Sunday.

Mr. Woodyard was born in Connersville in 1822, and went to Shelby county in 1830 with his parents. He has lived all his life in that county on the old Brookville road.

In his boyhood days he farmed and often drove cattle on foot to the Cincinnati markets. In later years he became a carpenter contractor. From 1853 to 1875 he was the leading stock buyer in the northern part of the county, driving on foot his stock to Knightstown and other points on the old Indiana Central Railroad. Mr. Woodyard took great interest in the C., H. & D. railroad when it came through in 1867.

He is a charter member of the Morristown Masonic Lodge No. 193, of which only two charter members are living, and will be a Mason fifty years if he lives till next June.

Mr. Woodyard has been constantly filling some township office for the last fifty years and much credit is due him for the splendid roads all over the northern part of Shelby county.

Mrs. Woodyard was born in Urbana, O., in 1818 and went to Shelby county two years later with her parents. Her grandfather attended a sale of government land at Brookville, Ind., in 1819, and purchased over one section of land which lays around Morristown.

Mr. and Mrs. Woodyard are members of the Morristown M. E. church and also of the famous Missouri Harmony Singers that meet there every year. They have been singing from the Old Missouri Harmony books since 1832, when they met at their homes and in school houses in their old time singing classes.

COUNTY AID TO AGRICULTURE

The County Fair Association Are Back of a Bill For Tax Levy.

As a result of a meeting of representatives of the County Fair Association held in the State House at Indianapolis, a bill will be introduced in the House allowing the County Commissioners and the County Council to levy an additional local tax of one per cent. on each $100, the proceeds to be devoted to encouraging horticulture, agriculture and live stock at the county fairs.

GETTING DOWN TO BUSINESS

Congress Cutting Out all But Absolutely Necessary Legislation.

One of the Most Important Matters is the Conference on Statehood Bill.

Washington, Feb. 20.—Nothing but absolutely necessary legislation is the order in the house for this week. This legislation, so far as can be indicated in advance, will consist of the completion of the naval appropriation bill today, and consideration of the river and harbor and sundry civil appropriation bills, a program which will occupy the week.

As the time draws near for the expiration of the congress, the legislative days will be gradually lengthened to correspond with the amount of work that still remains unfinished, and must be completed in order that the government may be carried on. There remains in committee the last of the appropriation bills—the general deficiency, which is being held back for emergencies.

The statehood bill is to be considered in conference during the week, but there is nothing to indicate that an agreement will be reached before the session is in its last moments.

The public buildings bill is to be a matter of contest during the week between the committee on rules and those members of the house who are enthusiastic in its support. A combined movement on the speaker has been organized for the purpose of securing a rule for the passage of this bill. Other measures which are knocking at the door of the committee on rules for "special orders" include the bill for government participation in the Jamestown exposition.

The Senate Program.

The senate began the week with consideration of the motion to appoint conferences on the joint statehood bill. The general understanding is that this action will prevail and that the bill will go to conference. In case the committee recedes from the important senate amendments, a sharp contest probably will ensue. The Swayne impeachment trial was resumed today at 2 o'clock, and it is now anticipated that the termination of the proceeding will not be deferred for a great while. The prosecution will introduce only one or two more witnesses, and it is announced that the defense will not call a great number. The postoffice appropriation bill will be taken up early in the week, and this and other supply bills will be kept as well to the front as possible during the entire week.

MAY GO TO THE PHILIPPINES

Congressman Watson is Being Urged to Accompany the Secretary of War.

Louis Ludlow in his despatch to the Indianapolis Star says: "Congressman Watson has received a good many letters and telegrams from friends in Indiana who read in The Star that Secretary Taft has invited him to be his companion on a trip to the Philippines next summer. 'Don't fail to go; it will be a great opportunity,' is the keynote of nearly all of the communications. Mr. Watson feels that he can hardly spare the time, but he may decide to go.

EVERYTHING QUIET.

Washington, Feb. 20.—A cablegram received at the navy department from Rear Admiral Sigbee, commanding the Caribbean squadron, with headquarters at Monte Christi, reports that everything is quiet in San Domingo. Affairs there, he adds, are progressing in a satisfactory manner.

HARD FOR DOPE FIENDS

Anti-poison Bill Gives the Druggists Extra Trouble in Handling Poison

[Indianapolis Star.]

The anti-poison bill by Representative Darby was passed by the House, Tuesday. It provides that poisons shall be sold only on prescription and purchasers must be registered by the druggist. Prescriptions for such poisons can only be filled once, and the names of two or more antidotes must be printed on the label. One of the purposes of the measure is to restrict the rapidly growing use of drugs by persons addicted to them. The police have frequently complained of the increasing number of "dope" fiends.

BURGLARS ARE HELD

Grand Jury Returns Four Indictments—One in Shooting Case.

The grand jury was in session again today and from the number of men standing about in the hall, it was evident that a great many witnesses were being examined. The jury has thus far returned four indictments, two indicting William Kelley, the burglar, who was captured recently by Bert Meredith, for burglary and grand larceny. These two indictments, it is stated, grew out of the robberies at the homes of Clarence Hilligoss and Ben L. Smith, Kelly being the man who was in both places. The jury also returned an indictment against James Jackson, the negro burglar, captured by Policeman Gordon for burglary and larceny, which grew out of the robbery at the home of Oliver Smith.

The Kelley cases have been set for trial on March 4th and 6th, and Jackson will be tried on March 7th.

An indictment has been returned against Timothy McGrath, the man who shot Francis Moor, son of Alvan Moor, in December, charging him with assault and battery with intent to kill.

MOTHER LEFT HER CHILDREN

To Warn Another Mother of Danger and Her Little Ones Perish.

Akron, Ohio, Feb. 20.—While Mrs. Amos Hefflinger was at the home of a neighbor warning another of the danger to her little son, who was skating on the Ohio canal, three of her own children were burned to an unrecognizable crisp. A fourth child and Mrs. Hefflinger's ten-year-old brother, who bravely attempted a rescue of the children, were probably fatally burned. Mrs. Hefflinger was absent but ten minutes, but within that time the house ignited from an unknown cause and was destroyed.

AN INTERESTING CONTEST

Mr. Hemenway's Chair Has Attraction for Many.

Indianapolis, Feb. 20.—The scramble to succeed Senator-elect Hemenway in congress is growing interesting. "Jack" Osborne, a member of the Republican machine in the First district, has been here to see Governor Hanly as to when a special election will be called. Incidentally it may be stated that Osborne and the machine are backing George A. Cunningham of Evansville, district chairman, and it is understood they would like to have the election take place early in May. Osborne thinks there is nothing to the race but Cunningham, although Colonel Frank B. Posey of Evansville and John Brady of Princeton, are vigorous candidates. Brady is regarded as a good dark horse proposition, as many believe there will be such a fight in Evansville between Cunningham and Posey that an outsider will be chosen. Osborne, it is said, would like to succeed Cunningham as district chairman if the latter is lucky enough to land Mr. Hemenway's seat. Mr. Hemenway will tender his resignation to Governor Hanly, to take effect at noon on March 4. The afternoon of that day he will be sworn in to succeed Vice President-elect Fairbanks in the senate.

Senator Martin Hugg, law partner of District Attorney J. B. Kealing, has pushed through the senate two important election bills. One is intended to purify the primary elections in Indianapolis, and by so doing to take the control of the organizations from the hands of the machines existing in each party. The other measure is intended to purify the elections throughout the entire state by providing punishment of the vote buyer as well as the seller. Senator Hugg stole a march on the machine politicians of Indianapolis by pushing the primary bill through before they had a chance to get next to what it meant. He seeks the repeal of the Joss primary law introduced and put through four years ago by Fred Joss, then a member of the senate and one of the wheel-horses of the Bookwalter machine, which has since been demolished. This primary law never placed any restraint on the corruptionists, as it made it optional with the precinct committeemen to determine whether or not there should be a direct primary or nominating convention. The latter method was usually selected and the machine ran things to suit itself until it was routed in the last municipal election. The machine men are now working to defeat the bill when it reaches the house.

The provisions of the Hugg primary bill are interesting to politicians, being a departure from all former laws on the subject in this state. Both parties shall hold primaries at the same time and place. Except in the case of the election of precinct committeemen, there shall be no separate primaries. The bill is so drawn as to prevent the old organizations from perpetuating their control, as the county officials are given powers of supervision. The secrecy of the ballot is to be maintained and heavy penalties are provided for illegal voting. Opponents of the bill are pointing out that it is unfair to both parties to compel them to hold their nominating primaries the same time and at the same place, and further that it should be optional with the workers as to whether or not the nominations shall be by direct vote or convention. An effort is also being made to show that Senator Hugg has provided for an extravagant system of making nominations. He has refused to accept any amendments, however, and is confident the bill will pass the house. His bill to punish the vote seller as well as the buyer has practically become a party measure with the Republicans, who realize that there is a demand throughout the entire state for election reform. His bill provides for a fine of $50, to which imprisonment for six months may be added and disfranchisement for a period of ten years.

Moscow Police Puzzled.

Moscow, Feb. 20.—The assassin of Grand Duke Sergius remains persistently silent. His identity has not yet been established, and although the police have been investigating diligently, they have been unable to gather up the threads of the plot or find any clues to any possible accomplice. The assassin's papers and clothes offer no means of identification, and his pass evidently was forged and appears never to have been used. Photographs have been taken to be dispatched to all the universities, but if the assassin is actually a workman and not a student, the police may find themselves utterly at sea.

NEARING THE END

Indiana General Assembly
 Has but Two More
 Weeks of Life.

A VERY GOOD RECORD

The Fact That Very Few Bills Are Being Passed Is Looked Upon as Proper Procedure.

It Will Be Surprising If Legislators
 Get Through With Business
 Now Pending.

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 20.—The present session of the general assembly will be adjourned sine die two weeks from today and from the outlook now it will have passed fewer bills than any of its predecessors in the last ten years. This, however, is regarded by many as a good record, in that there are already more laws on the books than are enforced.

It will be surprising indeed if the senate and house get through with the business before them. Of the two the senate stands the better show of getting out on time as it has been rushing matters to better advantage than the house. Lieut. Gov. Miller, presiding officer of the senate has kept his members on the jump most of the session. The house, being twice as large as, as a matter of course, more difficult to handle and considering the circumstances Speaker Cantwell has made a good record.

LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR MILLER.
 [Who is receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter into his happy home.]

Beginning tonight the senate will hold night sessions and the house will probably follow its example. The codification commission's municipal code bill will probably be the special order in the senate tonight and it promises to be one of the interesting features of the session.

The senate has killed the Benz bill to license peddlers. A bill introduced by Senator Carl Wood exempting all state, municipal, county, gravel road, drainage and street improvement bonds from taxation was passed. Several senators opposed it on the ground that while the bonds would sell for higher figures if not taxed that the state would be the loser.

While no final action was taken the senate as good as killed Senator Davis' bill prohibiting any state, municipal, county, township or judicial official from accepting a railroad pass by postponing it for a week. It will be too late then to get it through. Senator Davis made a strong plea for it, pointing out the growth of the pass evil among public officials, but it was apparent that a majority of the members are in favor of retaining these so-called perquisites.

On motion of Senator Lyons the senate authorized Secretary Hogate to send a telegram of congratulation to Lieutenant Governor Miller, his wife and their two-day-old daughter, who was termed the "daughter of the senate." Secretary Hogate sent the following message: "The senate sends hearty and sincere congratulations to you, to Mrs. Miller and Miss Miller, the latter for being so fathered and so mothered."

Speaker Cantwell is trying to push matters more rapidly in the house, which is far behind the senate in transaction of business. There is a big stack of house bills on his desk that have not been handed down on third reading. A bill providing for the admission of widows of Spanish-American and Philippine war veterans to the state soldiers' home at Lafayette; another to include the reporter of the supreme and appellate courts on the state board of printing have been passed by the house.

Several new bills were introduced, among them one by Representative Mounts for an inheritance tax. This is the bill Senator Wickwire pushed through the senate before learning that such measures should originate in the house. Representative Cravens introduced a bill to provide for agricultural experiments in various counties by Purdue university.

ON THE DEFENSIVE

British Government in More Ticklish Position Than Ever.

London, Feb. 20.—J. E. Redmond's amendment to the address in reply to the speech from the throne, declaring that the present system of Irish government is "opposed to the will of the Irish people," and which will be moved in the house of commons today, is expected to place the government in a position even more difficult than the fiscal debate. It is so framed as to enable the opposition to raise the whole question of the position of Sir Antony MacDonnell, under secretary to the lord lieutenant of Ireland, and the Dunraven devolution scheme, on which there is evidently much discussion within the cabinet itself, and it is anticipated, will engage all of Premier Balfour's skill to enable the government to emerge victorious. Lord Lansdowne having admitted in the house of lords that Lord Dudley (lord lieutenant of Ireland) knew that MacDonnell was helping Lord Dunraven in his devolution scheme, and Lord Dunraven having declared that Secretary Wyndham and MacDonnell had many long conversations on the "condition of modern opinion in Ireland." Mr. Wyndham's disavowal of MacDonnell causes a certain amount of caustic comment, whilst the Orange section loudly calls for the resignation of both Lord Dudley and Sir Antony MacDonnell. The debate will extend over two days and probably will be acrimonious. The opposition will endeavor to drive home their view that MacDonnell is being made a scapegoat.

For the Present Grand Duke's Re-

St. Petersburg, Feb. 20.—It has now been definitely decided that the remains of Grand Duke Sergius will not be brought to St. Petersburg for the present, but will be placed in a temporary receiving vault of the cloister of the Chudoff monastery, to await the completion of the alterations now in progress in the Romanoff mausoleum in the cathedral of St. Peter and St. Paul, where the permanent interment will occur, among the tombs of his ancestors. On account of lack of space in the mausoleum it was decided last year to henceforth bury only rulers of the dynasty in the old mausoleum and a new sepulchre in the new wing of the cathedral is now being built for other members of the imperial family. This, however, is not the only reason for the decision not to bring the remains to the capital now. Even Governor General Trepoff has recognized the fact that no precautions can furnish an absolute guarantee of immunity against an act of terrorism; and at a great state funeral, where ancient custom requires that the emperor and all of the Romanoff family assemble and follow the coffin on foot, a single bomb might wipe out the dynasty. Regard for the personal safety of the sovereign also has led to the decision that the emperor shall not go to Moscow to attend the funeral of his uncle. It is possible that no members of the imperial family will be present on that occasion except those who are now within the walls of the Kremlin. Grand Dukes Constantine and Paul probably will represent the emperor at the service. Constantine is personally popular, never having participated in the politics of the court, preferring to devote himself to the sciences and arts and to his work as the head of the military academy. He went to Moscow immediately on receipt of the news of the assassination of Grand Duke Sergius.

So grave is the danger of a repetition of the Moscow tragedy that several of the grand dukes have not stirred out of their palaces since the murder, and instead of going to Tsarskoe Selo to attend the requiem there, they have participated in special services held in the chapels of their own palaces. This was the case as regards the Grand Dukes Vladimir and Alexis. A special requiem also was held in the winter palace that Governor General Trepoff might attend. General Trepoff is known to be under sentence by the fighting organization of the Social Revolutionists, and so far as can be ascertained, has not left his quarters in the palace since the assassination of Grand Duke Sergius.

WHAT THE PEOPLE SAY

A PUBLIC LIBRARY.

To the Editor of the Republican:
I read with much interest your article of a few days ago in which you advocated a public library for our city. It is certainly high time that this matter were agitated and given the proper consideration. Nothing reflects so much the status of a community as its educational (or lack of educational) facilities.

Buildings and institutions are the expressions of our several interests. Our mercenary or business interests finds expression in factories, stores, etc.; our religious interest, in our churches; and our educational or cultural interest in parks, school buildings and libraries. A glance at our city will show which of these interests predominates. Our churches are perhaps above the average; our "power house," taking in account the subscriptions and large efforts put forth to secure the same, is evidence of a very large mercenary spirit. In fact, it is whispered even outside our city's limits that it is this spirit that dominates all our public works and enterprises. It is at least true that the cultural interest has little to show; for city parks are altogether wanting, our school buildings are inadequate and we have no library at all. This does not mean that these things are not wanted, but rather that those in authority—those whose support is necessary to make things go, are more concerned about wealth than culture, are more interested in self than the good of others.

The same efforts that were put forth in securing the "power house" would get us a good library, and a one cent levy would easily keep it going. This would be no big burden on anyone and who can estimate the good that would surely result to our city.

It was well to spend money and labor for a "power house," but it is more than equally important that we spend money and labor in the interest of education.

I venture to say half the money that is spent annually in our city in needless social functions would, also, give us a good library. Would it not be a sensible thing to cut out half of these functions for one year and appropriate the money thus saved for the establishment of a library? May the good people of our city take up this matter and never leave off working until we can point with pride to a library at least equal to those of our sister cities.

Dr. W. W. Arnold, of Colorado Springs, Colo., is an enthusiastic and practical kodaker, and by means of his camera illustrates interesting articles which he contributes from time to time to newspapers and magazines. His latest contribution is an illustrated article on "The Frost King's Visit," published in the Colorado Springs Sunday Gazette, giving half-tone pictures of hoar frost made from photographs taken by the doctor, and he has favored this office with a copy of the paper. Most of our readers have seen some time in their life, the effect of hoar frost upon bush, vine and tree and admired the beauty of the fligree of icy forms which shine like fields of diamonds in the sunlight.

Dr. Arnold is a lover of the beautiful and sublime in nature, and his happiest moments are when he is on an excursion to field, forest and mountain, among birds and flowers, and equipped with his camera catches and holds fast nature's beautiful scenes. Being gifted with a literary talent, the doctor is able to give expression to his feelings and observations and thus is enabled to delight others.

A WALK WITH THE MAN OF GALILEE

Was the Subject For Rev. McConnell's Seventh Lecture Delivered Sunday Night.

Rev. T. H. McConnell was greeted Sunday night at the First Presbyterian church by an audience which was much larger than the one which greeted him last Sunday. Both the main auditorium and the Sunday school room were occupied.

The subject for the seventh lecture was "A Walk With the Man of Galilee," and it was as interesting if not more so than any of the others.

Rev. McConnell opened his discourse with a description of the land of Galilee, both from a geographical and an origination standpoint, telling of the location of the different places, the many roads which traverse the land, the volcanic nature of the ground, the great fertility of the soil and the dispositions and occupations of the people.

Views were shown of Nazareth, Cana, Tiberias, Bethsaida, Capernaum and the Sea of Galilee. The audience was enabled to visit, figuratively, the scenes where Christ walked, taught and performed the miracles of which we read today.

Galilee was the most active field of Christ's ministry and as there is no desert in sight, the fertile fields and timber covered mountains form a decided contrast with the Judean desert wilderness.

The lecture was intensely interesting, the views were good, and the audience showed its appreciation by the closest attention. But one lecture remains and it will be given next Sunday night. The subject is "The River Jordan."

RIOT CREATED

Police Broke Up Crowd of Russian Revolutionists in New York.

New York, Feb. 20.—Police reserves were called out last night to disperse a crowd said to be sympathizers with the Russian revolutionary party. Eight men were arrested, all giving foreign names, and charged with parading without a permit, collecting a crowd and holding an unlawful meeting.

The trouble started when two policemen came upon a crowd cheering and applauding a speech made by one of their number. The policemen were unsuccessful in dispersing the people, and called for the reserves. It was said that a red flag was being waved, and later a sergeant of police who assisted in the raid made this statement, that on one of the men arrested was "inflammatory and revolutionary literature."

This man's name was given as Albert Argenter, and the police found on him a subscription list for the Russian revolutionaries, said to have been issued by the pro-revolutionary committee for Russia. All the men arrested said they were tailors, and protested against being taken into custody.

Argenter demanded to know if this city was to be like Moscow and honest workmen denied the right to meet and denounce tyrants.

"You can meet, all right," said the sergeant in charge at Madison street, "but not in the street where the meetings might turn into a riot and a lot of people get broken heads. Obey the law and we will not molest your meetings."
